CUSTOM MAGENTO WEBSITES

The Web/Magento team is using one of the most highly advanced eCommerce platforms for development of several projects. They are very efficient in bringing modern design and implementation of high-level security regarding client payments and private information.

This team is also working on releasing many useful extensions and plugins that can aid Magento website managers by saving their development time and improving the overall experience with it. These extensions are available for purchase and download.

As the team's experience grew, the necessity for certain functionalities came up together with the need of developing our own Magento extensions/plugins. We have developed many innovative functionalities along the way but some of them are available to our direct clients only.

REVOLVR IOS

Revolvr is a user-friendly mobile application that supports secure transactions of firearms and firearm accessories. The new version of the App is currently being developed. The name Revolvr is an interesting wordplay derived from the popular revolver class of handguns and the idea of revolving your personal firearm inventory. It's a free application that does not require any personal information unless you wish to buy or sell merchandise. It's the best mobile application to sell, buy, and transact within the firearms industry. If you have a gun, ammo or accessories you can broker them through Revolvr. You can sell and buy directly from the application.

Can't use Amazon, eBay, PayPal, or Craigslist? Use Revolvr! Our mission is to create a safe and secure user experience of buying and selling firearms and related equipment.
